"A pair of boots on a chair" is a landscape painting. A pair of boots has been placed on a chair in the landscape. I was able to identify a couple of things right away. One, the chair is in the center of this picture. Two, there is a little bit of a tree in the background. Three, the chair is on a piece of land and there is a tree growing out of the ground. Four, there is a little bit of blue sky above, and trees in the foreground. Five, there are a couple of big clouds that seem to be flying around. These things seem to be important for identifying the what, where and when of the picture. The picture was created about twelve years before he was born. He was living in Paris and he worked exclusively as a painter. He lived for many years in a little two-room home that he called his "solitary universe." What does it mean to be in a "solitary universe"? If we were to put ourselves in a "solitary universe" we would be only thinking about our own thoughts and concerns. This could possibly be a distraction to our thinking and our day-to-day life. I think it is great that Vincent van Gogh kept his thoughts and concerns to himself. He was only concerned with the meaning and expression of his ideas. He did not want to have any distractions from this expression. You must be logged in to post a comment. Please

A geriatric alcohol rehabilitation center is one of two new alcohol rehabilitation centers in the United States. As a first step in developing a leisure and recreation program for this facility, an evaluation of the options available to it was undertaken. Recreational and social activities currently being provided at existing state facilities were reviewed. The program elements and characteristics that best meet the needs of the clients of the alcohol rehabilitation center were compared with those of the state facilities.
